CBCA Report

From the President of the CBCA
2022 started with a bang for Gary and me. We both contracted COVID and spent a few uncomfortable weeks in isolation. Thank you to our wonderful neighbours and friends who kept us fed during that time.

CBCA activities continued in January, due to the great work by a small group of CBCA members. Two very successful sausage sizzles were held on 8th and 15th January, a large number of raffle tickets were sold, and many more signatures were obtained on our petition for pathways in the Bay.

I would like to give a shout out to Christine and John Byron, John and Julianne Fowler, Stuart and Linda Belbin, Fran and Peter Sheil, Mark Bennie, Jim Townsend, and Jacinta Flattery-O'Brien who worked tirelessly both days to ensure the success of the events. The CBCA succeeds when we have great people like these giving their time so generously. We sold out of sausages both days and raffle ticket books were filled up. Thank you also community members and visitors who supported our efforts.

CBCA Report

The raffle will be drawn on Australia Day at our Breakfast at the Bay, so please join us for a great family morning at Bicentennial Park from about 8:00am. There are lots of great prizes up for grabs.

While I was at home, I saw an interesting conversation stream on our F/B page which encouraged people to identify the three things they would like to see for Callala. There were many different suggestions put forward, but the most oft raised were the following:

- More footpaths around the Bay and Beach, including a cycleway connecting Callala with Currarong and Culburra (separate to the road)

- Green waste pickup

Other suggestions included:

- New playgrounds

- Upgrade to Myola boat ramp

- Better beach access for the elderly and people with a disability

- Dirt pump bike track (very popular with my grandson)

- Coffee pop-up at the reserve of the Bay

- A restaurant for special occasions

- Family friendly place to gather/dine/dance see live music near the water

- Shower and toilet facility at Wowly Creek

Many people commented about our beautiful location and the importance of featuring its natural attractions. Being able to sit by the water and enjoy coffee and snacks seems a great idea. So, I hope that some enterprising people may take up this idea this year.

The CBCA is focused on pathways and will continue to push this agenda. Watching little children on their bikes riding on the roads filled with so many cars during the holidays made me even more determined to see safe pathways built around Callala.

Many residents have previously raised the need for green waste bins so we will again raise this with Council, given the number of councils which provide green waste collection around the state.

Our first CBCA meeting of 2022 will be on Wednesday February 9 at the Callala Community Hall at 7pm. Everyone is welcome.

And just a reminder that membership renewals are now due. $5.00 is all it takes to become and remain a member of the CBCA. Funds go towards the publication of the Newsletter.

See you around Callala Bay

Sue

2022 Australia Day Breakfast

The CBCA again hosted the Breakfast by the Bay on Australia Day. It was a beautiful morning, with great entertainment and food. Several hundred people attended and many commented on their pleasure at being able to attend such a lovely event in such a lovely location. Here are some photos of the morning. If you didn't get there this year, make a note on your calendar for 2023.

The hardworking members of the CBCA should be acknowledged for their great effort. Jim Townsend, John and Julianne Fowler, Christine and John Byron and Mark Bennie were there at 6.30am setting the site up and were there hours later pulling the marquee, signs and other equipment down. They spent the morning selling raffle tickets, answering questions, troubleshooting and keeping us COVID safe. Thank you so much.

Members of the Callala Bay Rural Fire Brigade did their usual amazing job of feeding the attendees, even with the many COVID restrictions they had to meet. They provided the breakfast free of charge but were pleased to receive many donations through the CBCA's EFTPOS machine (for those who didn't have cash).

Continues on Page 6

Bushcare

In addition, the RFS took a lot of donations in cash in their bucket at the food counter. Thank you to all those who donated to our RFS.

A huge thank you also to those local businesses and individuals who donated prizes for the CBCA raffle. We had a great selection of prizes which really appealed to people, given the number of tickets we sold. Our raffle raised $1558 for the CBCA to put towards events and facilities for our community. This is in addition to the $276 raised on the preceding two Saturday mornings at our sausage sizzles.

In all, eleven prizes were won by locals and visitors. One of the major prizes was won by a visitor who had bought a raffle ticket while staying here earlier this year. When contacted, she said she would like the prize given to the person she had stayed with. Our President, Sue Chapman, delivered it to him the following day. He was thrilled and said he would like to get more involved in the community because 'people are so friendly and welcoming'. Safety First Pest Control, Callala Bay IGA, Dollarz Value, Callala Bay Family Butcher, B Elite Hair Salon and Lucy's Loot are all local businesses which supported the CBCA through their donations. I encourage everyone to support them in return. Celebrations provided the beer and wine package prize at cost to round out the prize pool and we appreciate their support.

In addition, members of the community- Ray Plevey, Julie and James Morris, and Zoe and Simon Okely also donated prizes. Thank you to them for their generosity.

Fiona Phillips, the Federal Member for Gilmore dropped in to say hello on her way to a citizenship ceremony and SCC Ward 2 Councillor Greg Watson gave a short speech explaining the significance of Australia Day to him.

Greg reminded us that a very significant thing happened on January 26, 1949. The Nationality and Citizenship Act 1948 came into effect on that day. This marked the first time the term "Australian citizen" had been used in any legislation including the Constitution. Before 1949, anyone born or naturalized in Australia was considered a British subject. There was no such thing as an 'Australian citizen'. For example, people travelling overseas prior to the Act were issued with a British passport. So while there is much debate about celebrating Australia Day on January 26, it is interesting to note the importance of the day to all of us who call ourselves 'Australians'.

Those relaxing in Bicentennial Park enjoyed great music from duo Kenny and Amanda, back with us for a fifth year and loved seeing Magic Daniel entertaining the young ones. His balloon swords were very popular with the boys! Bumpy Road again provided coffee to those in need of a caffeine hit.

Australia Day 2022- Breakfast by the Bay- proved to be another great start to a beautiful day in beautiful Callala Bay. We are so lucky to live and holiday here. See you all next year same place, same time.

Bushcare

A new year, a time of new resolutions, and in our ever-changing world, new growth.

Remember the disappointment when the large Angophora on our foreshore had to have its trunk severed for safety reasons? Well, behold, what is appearing now?

These new shoots are called epicormic buds/growth. You would have seen this type of foliage developing on eucalypts after a bush fire. The buds exist under the bark of most eucalypts but while the tree is growing in a healthy way, hormones within the tree inhibit the growth of these buds. When a tree suffers stress like fire, severe drought or damage like the chopping off of its trunk, the hormone production drops, and the buds spring to life.

Where a fire has impacted on a tree, you would have noticed that the epicormic buds erupt up the whole remaining trunk. My reading indicates that this is because the trauma has impacted the whole trunk. With our tree, I expect that the new growth will be restricted mainly up near the cut point. But the hormone response may be, 'I've lost my head, AND I've lost my shoes and socks from half my feet, let's go all out!'

Sometimes this property of trees is used in forestry, referred to as coppicing. The tree will be cut, then once the resulting epicormic buds form multiple new long branches, these are cut, harvested for their timber, and the process begins again.

I was prompted to have a eucalypt growing in my garden cut off to coppicing height in 2016. Before I owned my place, the tree had either been planted or allowed to grow spontaneously, too close to the house. I love trees, but I know a potential property damage risk when I see it. Fortunately I have a friend who is an experienced tree feller, and we used ropes and took safety precautions, and with some carefully angled chain saw cuts, about ten metres of trunk was taken off.

I have to admit, at first, I looked at that bare trunk and really missed the original tree. But once the epicormic shoots appeared, I knew I'd done the right thing. I have a ceramic bird bath suspended a couple of metres up the trunk, and the birds seem to appreciate the thick foliage that acts as protection as they make their way to the bath. So I'm pleased that I have a lovely bushy small tree in my garden - when the tallest of the shoots are pruned to keep the low height - the tree still keeps its shape.

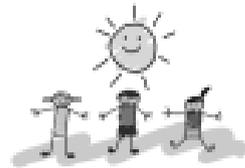

I hope if we are patient, the big bare trunk on our foreshore will send up a flurry of new branches. It won't look the same as our old tree, but with less weight, it will be more stable. I do suspect that as the dune area is eroded more by the sea, the remnant tree will lose its remaining soil, but hopefully that's a quite a few years off yet.

In the meantime, the new plantings along the fore dune have all survived and after consulting Council staff, I have removed the cardboard guards. The wet weather over the past few months has given these seedlings a great start. You might also see other saplings popping up in the dune area, in Bush Care terminology we refer to a desired tree or shrub which germinates spontaneously, as a 'volunteer'.

Don't forget, our group are always keen for other human volunteers eager to join our ranks! See how below.

If you would like to become involved with our Callala Bush Care group, please email our Council Co Ordinator Belinda Stewart, Belinda.Stewart@shoalhaven.nsw.gov.au, and she will put you in contact with us. Garden Club

As I write this, it is raining and the garden is rejoicing once more. We have had some hot, humid days and plants need this rain to revive. The Garden club is still in recess until the first

I have just harvested my first beetroot crop- I planted mine from seed. My spur to try to grow beetroot came from my Callala Community Garden friends who have been growing this vegetable successfully since the garden was established. I must admit that most of the beetroot I had eaten before came sliced in a can. Speaking to others about beetroot I have learnt much more. Did you know that beetroot is not always red in colour? Beetroot comes in a range of colours and sizes—from red and yellow to striped ones. Beetroot is also easy to grow, and you don't need a lot of space. Not only are they delicious to eat but they are highly nutritious as well.

You can grow beetroot from seed or seedlings- 5-10 cms apart. Prepare the soil by adding organic matter- manure and compost. To ensure that your beetroot is tender and juicy, it's important to water regularly. Keep the soil moist, not wet, until the seeds have germinated, then water every couple of days for the first month. If you don't, beetroots can dry and even crack, exposing them to the risk of rot. Use a liquid feed of seaweed fertiliser at least once a fortnight. As with all root vegies, fertilisers high in nitrogen are unnecessary. Nitrogen increases leaf growth but does nothing for the roots beneath.

It's best to harvest your beetroot while they're young, about 2–3 months after you plant them. Often called 'baby beets', these will be juicier and sweeter. The larger they get, the tougher they are, and you get less flavour. You will know when they are ready to pick as you can see the beetroot crown at the top of the soil surface. Have a go at growing this versatile vegetable and you probably won't touch the canned stuff again.

First meeting for 2022 is Saturday February 19th. Membership fee is $20 annually. We meet on the 3rd Saturday from Feb. – November 1.30pm at Culburra Anglican Church, Penguin Head Rd, Culburra Beach. Please bring your own mug for afternoon tea and a mask if we are still following Covid restrictions.

Take care and stay safe. Enjoy your garden.

Callala Bay Progress Hall

We are very excited for the 5th March (12 noon - 4pm) when we will officially reopen the Progress Hall. We are holding an event called 'Celebrating Community' and that is exactly what we hope to do! Many of our user groups will be present for you to meet them and to find out what is here in our community. We will have a historical display where you can find out the history of the hall and how the community was so integral in building what we have. You will have a chance to share your own stories of Callala Bay.

The official opening will be at 1pm, after which afternoon teas will be available for purchase. Do you have any young artists in your house? If so, we are running an art competition just for them. Get them to create a painting or drawing about Callala Bay and what makes Callala Bay special to them. We have three age categories: under 6, 6 - 9 and 10 - 14 years. Prizes will be awarded on the day. All you have to do is drop your art work off to the Hall on the morning of the 5th March (best between 11am and noon).

We are excited to see what you can create! Don't forget, we have a tennis court which is available for hire daily between 7am and 8:30pm. Just phone 444 64 313 to book your time.

Culburra Beach & Districts Men's Shed

As the holiday period ends and we enter a new year of activity, we all pause to consider the future.

Unfortunately, we lost a few of our foundation members last year. In some ways, natural attrition is to be expected, so we need to again focus on gaining new members, with new ideas, creativity and enthusiasm.

Many potential members hesitate to commit due to the usual reservations. Is this sort of activity right for me? What can I do to participate meaningfully? What skills do I have? What training is available? What equipment is available for me to use?

We've heard and experienced all of these questions and more.

To demonstrate the benefits of Shed membership, one of our newer members, Michael, agreed to be reported here as a case study. He joined us less than a year ago and provides a good example of the benefits of membership.

Recently retired, he formerly operated a painting business before moving down to the Shoalhaven. He always had an interest in working with wood and has been able to now pursue this aspiration with active assistance and training from fellow Shed members.

From the start, Michael's attention to detail was an obvious attribute, which he applies to everything he does. His first project was to create a storage box from recycled fence palings. Using (particularly) our thicknesser, various sanders and other tools, the final result was remarkable for a first attempt.

Recycled paling storage box

There have been various projects since. The latest, because Michael is a keen fly fisherman, was a stand for his fishing boots. This time he ventured into wood turning for the first time, under tuition from a couple of older members, and again created a wonderful result.

Recycled ironbark/oak boot stand

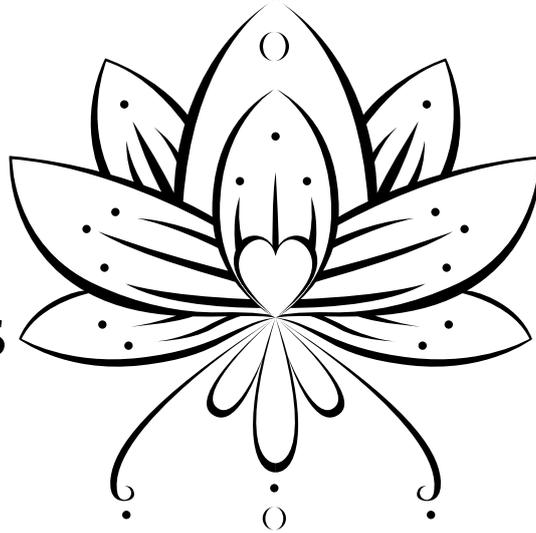

So, what are you waiting for? Call into the Shed on Monday or Wednesday mornings, from 9am to 1pm, for a coffee, chat or more information about membership. Or call us on 0499 452095. You can also visit our  Facebook page.

We look forward to seeing our supporters and customers at the Callala Markets on 12 February. We'll have our usual range of timber craft, nestboxes and other products for purchase.

Callala Community Garden

Hello from the little green hub opposite the shops in Emmett Street...

More wild weather means our tomatoes are still green but could be ready for the February markets. Some of the oxheart are enormous! I wonder how they will taste?

The rain has encouraged the mint and other herbs to grow and they are abundant.

* We have plenty of potted plants for sale including clivias, bloodleaf and geraniums. Due to the humidity, we have been thinning out various cucurbit leaves in an attempt to increase airflow.

The late season corn crop is coming along nicely, as are the capsicums now that we have removed their competition.

This has been a wonderful season for basil and beans. More potatoes have gone in. The turmeric looks stunning! We are delighted to have picked our first bunch of grapes. It has been lovely to see more visitors to the garden, including some little ones enjoying the new jeep. A huge thanks to the kind donors.

We are looking forward to more fun on our Family Fun Days on the last Friday of each month. First one for 2022 is on 25th February 9.30 to 11.00 a.m. (Contact Mhairi on 0490151585 for more info.)

Or maybe we will see you on a Tuesday, Thursday, Sunday or Market Day. All welcome. You may like to join us as a financial, a social, or a Facebook member to keep in touch with what is happening at your community garden.
