Presidents Report

At the last CBCA General Meeting, several of those attending indicated they had not seen progress on issues raised by the community over many years. While recognising that community members want action immediately on issues they raise, we need to be realistic about time-frames and budgets.

I decided to go back to some source documents to identify a few things that have been done based on matters raised by community members in the past. I acknowledge this is a subset of many ideas that have been generated over the years; however, it is designed as a demonstration that sometimes 'things get done'.

The 'Creating Callala' document, which focused on the Bay, Beach and Myola, was created in 2013 to set out some short, medium, and long-term strategic goals for the area. A plan was developed resulting from considerable community consultation over many months. A range of focus areas were considered but a couple I would like to highlight are as follows:

- 'Construct a shared path around the Callala Bay Headland from Bicentennial Park to the end of Sheaffe St'. The CBCA obtained a grant worth more than $80,000 and built the pathway with assistance from volunteers and SCC. It took some time, but it was done and now is a real drawcard for residents and visitors alike.

- 'Provide a community area to grow food, to connect the community and to share knowledge'. This was progressed over many years through the active involvement of community members, the successful application for grants and the support of relevant authorities. Anyone who walks along Emmett St can see the great response to that original priority raised during community consultation.

- 'Improve the amenity of the foreshore for all users by signs, play equipment, drinking water, shower (for rinsing after swim), picnic tables, benches, barbeques'. These amenities can be found all around Callala at different spots. Yes, some have taken longer than others to be built but they are there. There may be more you would like to see, especially toilets, and they will be included in the next round of strategic planning.

- "Preserving ...our natural environment...construct a low impact walkway through the Callala wetlands". This has been completed and is well used by locals.

Many other good ideas were raised during those consultations some of which are now the focus of the CBCA. 'Universal pathways to improve safety for pedestrians, cyclists and motorists' was one focus area raised then and is currently a focus area so that they can be included in future SCC budgets. The pathway in Sheaffe St and the pathway between the Bay and the Beach via Emmett St and Callala Beach were both listed as long-term priorities in 'Creating Callala'. The CBCA is actively pursuing both projects with the SCC.

A plan is a living document and as demographics, and needs, change in Callala so will the priorities of the community. This is why we need to periodically revisit strategic plans, both at a community level and at a local government level. Community consultation is an important part of ensuring plans reflect the priorities of the community. However, we should be realistic about what can be achieved, in what timeframe and at what cost. It is important to always celebrate the things that have been achieved and I hope the things I've highlighted will encourage you all to be positive about the opportunities that lie before us as a community.

If you want to know more about the many tasks undertaken by the CBCA on behalf of the community, please come to the next Callala Markets on December 11 where two of the CBCA Committee- Sue and Fran – will be in attendance to answer your questions and to show you what has been achieved over the past few years. We would love to hear your views on what we could focus on next.

See you in Callala
Sue

Bushcare

Rain, rain....I'm reluctant to say 'go away' because our soil dries out so quickly and we all have such awful recent memories of the last drought, and the terrible Bush Fires two years ago.

And it is lovely to see how lush and green our gardens and the bushland are at present. Of course, for a Bush Carer, if the desirable plants are growing vigorously, so are the weeds!

Wet weather isn't a good time to be applying herbicides, which need at least 6 hours of sunshine to be absorbed. So the plan I flagged last month involving tackling the Morning Glory weed using the 'cut and paint' application method, is temporarily on hold.

One strategy for weed control that benefits from wet weather is a form of biological control. The term 'biological control' means using a natural predator to attack a weed. The weed in question is Bridal Creeper (Asparagus asparagoides). The images show a close up on the left, and the smothering effect on the right.

This plant was originally imported from Africa around 1870 as a decorative plant – strands of it were used in bridal bouquets – hence the common name. It's a really problematic weed, and is on the Weeds of National Significance list. The strands grow to up to 3 metres in length, and the multiple stands can cover native shrubs and smother them. Underground the roots and rhizomes form a dense mat which sucks up moisture and nutrients plus it inhibits germination of native plant seeds.

We are fortunate that there aren't heavy infestations of Bridal Veil creeper in the Callala Bush Care sites as the Biological Control isn't appropriate where the weed is covering vast areas. Apparently, according to The Atlas of Living Australia, control of the weed in areas of heavy infestation requires decades to achieve!

The strategy we are now using involves sourcing lengths of Bridal Veil Creeper that has been infected with a form of rust/fungus (Puccinia myrsiphyllii). These strands are wrapped around a healthy Bridal Veil Creeper plant, sprayed with water which activates the fungus, then plastic cling wrap is wound around to bind the infected creeper to the length of healthy creeper. This is left in place for several weeks, by which time, the previously healthy creeper is looking extremely poorly and shrivelled. The fungus spreads up beyond the plastic wrap and will infect nearby Bridal Creeper. You will appreciate that considerable research was undertaken before use of this fungus was permitted to ensure it only impacts this specific plant.

In the photo, I've bound the dampened fungus riddled strands to a target creeper and added the pink tape for ease of retrieval as I don't want to be adding to plastic pollution to our bushland. I'll go back and remove the plastic and tape before Christmas.

With all this rain, and the return of our part time residents after Covid lockdown, are you doing a general garden clean up? If you are removing weeds or overgrown garden plants, please ensure these are disposed of using the Council Red top garbage bin, or taken to the Green Waste section of the tip.

This pile took me an hour to weed out of the dune near my home. I've put the bucket next to the tightly packed pile, for perspective. That hour's work cleared barely a square metre of the succulent which is growing in the shade of Common Bracken and other shading native plants. Once I removed the Crassula, the weedy effect was obvious, the sand was bare as none of the native plants that would normally cover the sand had been able to germinate. Hopefully this area will regenerate rapidly now the weed has been removed. There will need to be several more hours devoted to completely clearing out the Crassula in that dune area. So please, if you are doing a garden tidy up, don't through unwanted vegetation in local bushland thinking that it will just decompose and won't impact on the bush, that's how unwanted plants cause environmental damage! Did I mention that one leaf of Crassula is enough for this plant to spread?

If you would like to become involved with our Callala Bush Care group, please email our Council Co Ordinator Belinda Stewart, Belinda.Stewart@shoalhaven.nsw.gov.au, and she will put you in contact with us. Any queries about information or opinions in this column, my [Diana] phone number is 0419 531 902.

Community Garden

Summer at last

- Such a wet Spring has meant the garden has been highly productive. The broad beans and peas are finished now and we learned to cut them off at the base rather than pull them out so the nitrogen on the roots will enrich the soil until we are ready to plant a replacement crop.
- We harvested our first Dutch Cream and Kipfler potatoes
- Gail has been hand pollinating the Zucchini's to increase their yield
- There has been such an array of garden plants for sale at very competitive prices...thanks to our clever growers
- The sweet peas have been delightful and the vines on the fences are coming along nicely... much to the delight of the cockatoos!
- It is such a joy to be able to move around with a bit more freedom, please join us on open mornings and market days to explore what is available for you in our little haven opposite the Callala Bay Shops.

Garden Club

Our final meeting for 2021 was November 20th. President Bev welcomed 21 members and guest speaker Mr Stephen Townsend from Culburra Rural Fire Brigade. Stephen works as an aviation firefighter and has been a volunteer with RFB for 17 years. Stephen also has a specialized job as a trained air observer. During a bush fire, he flies in a small plane ahead of the large tankers and maps out fires. The Culburra RFB includes 45 fire fighters who work 24/7 all year round. During his talk, Stephen stressed that having a house well prepared is the best against a bush fire.

Who can ever forget the 2019/20 bush fires in the South Coast? As gardeners we can take simple steps to protect our home

1. Trim any overhanging branches and overgrown bushes
2. Mow lawns and remove any cuttings and mulch such as bark chips close to your house
4. Remove material that can burn e.g., paint, aerosol cans
4. Clear gutters from leaves
5. Prepare-have a sturdy hose and fill buckets with water.

He also said that most houses which burn are due to embers and not direct fire line. Stephen explained the bush fire alert warnings, back up plans if we decide to stay and defend our home and when to leave. We thanked Stephen for attending our meeting. He gave everyone an information package and passed on this number - Fire Control 4424 4424- if we have any issues with overgrown bush near our home.

Our Display table featured a Christmas theme of red, green and white flowers and foliage. We had Grevillea, Christmas bush, white Hydrangea, Fuchsia, Gardenias, Christmas lily, Poinsettia, Anthurium, Rosemary and Crucifix Orchid.

On behalf of the Garden Club, I would like to thank Editor Jake and all the committee members for their support throughout the year. We wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a joyful New Year. The first meeting for 2022 will resume on February 19th. Membership fee is $20 annually. We meet on the 3rd Saturday from Feb. – November 1.30pm at Culburra Anglican Church, Penguin Head Rd, Culburra Beach. Take care and stay safe. Enjoy your garden.

Cheers Doris Carpenter (secretary) 44465631

November was a busy month!

Our project to supply Shoalhaven City Council with nest boxes for installation in local parks and gardens, per our Bushfire Recovery Grant (BRG), has been a priority. Following discussions with Council staff, we agreed to vary the scope of our Grant application from the original 20 Crimson Rosella boxes to:-

- 12 Crimson Rosella
- 4 Owlet Nightjars
- 2 Kookaburra
- 2 Tree Creeper
- 2 Sugar Glider
- 4 Pygmy Possum
- 4 Microbat

Council staff are quite concerned about the presence of Indian Myna birds, a major invasive pest, in some planned installation areas, so we have agreed to add baffles to 6 of the Rosella boxes which are most at risk. Work is progressing well on the project and we hope the complete and deliver the finished products to Council this month.

Some Rosella boxes nearing completion

We had a successful day at the Callala Markets last month. A highlight was a visit from Fiona Phillips, our local MP. Her continued support is most welcome.

We were pleased to also welcome Fiona last month to inspect our new Mill Drill. Fiona and her staff assisted us in seeking and obtaining Commonwealth grant funding for the purchase of this item of equipment.

You're welcome to call into the Shed on Monday or Wednesday mornings, from 9am to 1pm. For more information, or to enquire regarding membership, please call 0499 452095 or visit our  Facebook page.

New paint, new times ahead! An update from Callala Bay Progress Hall

It's exciting times for the 'old hall', as it is affectionately known among locals! You have read about the history of the hall; of how our community worked so hard in the 1960s and 1970s to build the hall. We are thrilled to announce that, after a major renovation, the hall is back in use and is, once again, available for hire! As our community grows, it's great to have a choice of venues.

The AGM was held on the 24th November, 2021. It was well attended and ended with a very convivial cheese and wine event. Kerryn Wake and Sharon Neridal were both present from Council with Kerryn acting as Returning Officer. User groups and local residents were also among those in attendance.

A warm vote of thanks for David Wadsworth was moved unanimously. It was in recognition for the tireless work he did in liaising with Council and advocating for the hall. Grateful thanks also go to Collette Early who stood down after several years as secretary for the committee.

A date was set for a community event to celebrate the renovations. This will be 26th February, 2022. Details next newsletter.

Our next meeting will be 5:30pm, January 19th, 2022. Everyone is welcome to attend.
